Thanks to all the users that have downloaded and installed SimplyWiki 1.0, a few things were discovered and improvements were necessary. So, this announces the release of SimplyWiki 1.01 RC1 - it is available as a complete install package or as an upgrade package. Officially - this is an RC release. Do not install on a live site without testing on a copy of your site, or without making a backup of your site Unofficially - the changes are minor and the resolutions were quite simple. If you like to take risks (and this one is rather small), install or upgrade to this version.

Honestly, if you have it installed and running, you probably won't need to upgrade. If you are installing for the first time, the changes only affect ImpressCMS 1.1 users and French, Dutch and Spanish users. Coming soon will be the beta release of SimplyWiki 1.1 and you will want to check that out! There are a lot of improvements and additions coming in the new version.
